“Journalism in India: Ground reporting in the age of fake news”

Chaitanya Marpakwar

(Journalist at Mumbai Mirror)

Chaitanya Marpakwar will talk about his experience as a journalist working for the Mumbai Mirror, where he reported extensively on corruption and irregularities in civic contracts. His stories often highlight social issues, and have fostered public debate. He will also speak about his experience as a participant in the India-Germany Media Ambassadors programme by the Robert Bosch Stiftung and the similarities and differences in Indian and German journalism and how both countries are trying to fight fake news.

Chaitanya Marpakwar is a principal correspondent with the Mumbai Mirror of the Times of India group where he covers the civic and politics beat. He is a recipient of the Ramnath Goenka National Award (2017) for civic reporting and Mumbai Press Club's RedInk award (2018) for city reporting.
