

WORLD FUTURE COUNCIL – VACANCY

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: 19th May 2019

The World Future Council is looking for an

Future Policy Award Intern (m/f/d) – Empowering Youth

Duration: 1 June 2019 – 30 August 2019

Location: Hamburg Office

Working hours: 20 hrs/week

In 2019, we are convening a Future Policy Award on Youth Empowerment in partnership with UNDP and the Inter-Parliamentary Union to inspire policy action and provide hope that a better sustainable future is possible for youth.

Role:

To contribute to the research of the Future Policy Award 2019

Responsibilities:

- Be a part of the Future Policy Award 2019 team
- Research, evaluate and write about youth empowerment policies
- Liaise with, and interview, experts from governments, science and civil society
- Report to the Supervisor.

Profile:

- Academic background, preferably in political sciences, law, human rights, youth, employment
- Good understanding of youth issues, policy and practice
- Excellent communication skills in English, other language skills in French / Spanish / etc. are an asset.
- Good IT literacy
- Ability to work both independently and as part of an international team
- Be reliable and capable of paying close attention to detail
- Be committed to the WFC's vision and mission of long-term sustainability and equity.

What we offer:

- An inspiring work place in an international environment
- A committed team and a highly relevant research topic
- Flexibility in implementing your tasks and in working hours.

To apply, please send a letter of motivation, a CV and work sample as well as your skype contact details to Ms Ingrid Heindorf: ingrid.heindorf@worldfuturecouncil.org Subject heading: Internship – FPA: Empowering Youth and your name. Deadline: 19th May 2019. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.