DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

Universität Hamburg is dedicated to sustainability, equal opportunity, and family-friendly policies. We also prize cultural diversity, communication, and interaction among people from different backgrounds and with different lifestyles.

The Faculty of Business, Economics and Social Sciences invites applications for a commencing as soon as possible, ref. no. JP 264.

JUNIOR PROFESSORSHIP (W1) FOR SOCIOLOGY, WITH A FOCUS ON WORK, ORGANIZATION, AND GENDER

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate is expected to teach and conduct research in the field of work, organization, and gender. Research experience in the sociology of work and / or the sociology of organization, each with a focus on gender, is further expected, as are links to one of the Faculty's following research areas: sustainability or globalization and the consequences of globalization. Cooperation within the framework of the Faculty's Centre for Globalisation and Governance (CGG) is desirable.

The successful candidate is expected to teach in German and English, in particular in the interdisciplinary BA and MA programs in the Department of Socioeconomics and at the Faculty's graduate school.

Section 12 subsection 7 sentence 2 of the Hamburg Higher Education Act (Hamburgisches Hochschulgesetz, HmbHG) applies.

Requirements:

Academic qualifications and additional requirements as specified in Section 18 HmbHG.

Further criteria:

Applicants are expected to have international research experience as well as a successful track record in acquiring external funding and carrying out externally funded projects. The University places particular emphasis on the quality of teaching and therefore requests that applicants provide details of their teaching experience and objectives.

In accordance with Section 14 subsection 3 sentence 3 HmbHG, Universität Hamburg seeks to increase the proportion of women in teaching and research and encourages female academics to apply.

Qualified disabled candidates or applicants with equivalent status receive preference in the application process.
