We are looking for a motivated:

Student Research Assistant [SHK] (m/w/d)

to support the work of the Sustainability Economics Group led by Prof. Dr. Moritz Drupp.

The research assistant will support research projects on the economics of sustainability, including applications to climate change, air pollution, and biodiversity conservation. You will support us primarily through literature research and by assisting in the preparation of data sets.

The ideal candidate should have:

- very good academic performance
- very good knowledge of English
- strong work ethics, good organizational skills, and the ability to work independently
- interest in empirical research as well as in environmental economics and policy

Working time will be 20-30 hours per month with a current gross hourly wage of € 10.91. The contract will initially be a fixed term appointment for six months, and can be extended thereafter. We offer a nice, dynamic working environment, flexibility in allocating working hours and insights into the research and teaching activities of our working group.

To apply for this position, please, send us your application in English (attaching a cover letter, your CV, and proof of your academic achievements) via email to Björn Bos by 26.11.2021:

bjoern.bos@uni-hamburg.de.

Selected candidates will be invited for an interview, which will take place on 30.11.2021 or 01.12.2021 via a video conference system. The desired starting date would be 01.02.2022, and candidates will still need to be enrolled in the next summer term 2022.
